The ingredients in soda are carbonated water, fructose, caffeine, most of the time sugar, phosphoric acid, 250 empty calories (for a can or so I was told). The Sunkist website reports that the enhanced water contains some vitamins: an 8 oz. glass contains 20% of the daily recommended amount of Vitamin C, 25% of Vitamin B6, and 4% of Vitamin B12. The new enhanced water does not contain sugar; rather, it is sweetened with sucralose, a synthetic sweetener.
